Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	4-14	YES
	Claims	1-3	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	12-14	YES
	Claims	1-11	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-14	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

Document 1: JP, 2003-192346, A (Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Corporation), July 9, 2003 (07.09.03), Example 1 (Family: none)

Document 2: JP, 2001-039713, A (Nippon Telegraph and Telephone Corporation), February 13, 2001 (02.13.01), Example 2 (Family: none)

Document 3: Toshihiko MATSUMOTO et al., "Kojundo Sanka Aen Nenketsutai no Denkiteki Seishitsu," Nippon Daigaku Bunri Gakubu Shizen Kagaku Kenkyusho Kenkyu Kiyo, 1981, No. 16, pp. 5.21-5.26

Claims 1-3

The inventions described in claims 1-3 do not appear to be novel based on documents 1, 2 and 3 cited in the ISR. Documents 1 and 2 describe using as a starting material a high purity zinc metal having purity of 99.99999% to obtain zinc oxide powder having a particle size of several μm and impurity concentration of 1ppb or less. Document 3 describes using as a starting material a high purity zinc metal having purity of 99.999% (equivalent to impurity of less than 10ppm) to obtain zinc oxide powder. As documents 1-3 describe obtaining zinc oxide powder having such low impurity concentration as described above, this examination finds that the concentrations of C, Cl and S, which can also be considered types of impurities, are also low.

Claims 4-11

The inventions described in claims 4-11 do not appear to involve an inventive step based on documents 1, 2 and 3 cited in the ISR. With zinc oxide powder having a low impurity concentration described in documents 1-3 as a starting material, producing a zinc oxide sputtering target having a low impurity concentration, as well as obtaining a zinc oxide thin film having a low impurity concentration, could be easily conceived of by a party skilled in the art.

Claims 12-14

The inventions described in claims 12-14 are not disclosed in any of the documents cited in the ISR; therefore, they appear to be novel and involve an inventive step. In particular, a method of producing zinc oxide wherein a solvent extract and activated carbon treatment are combined could not be easily conceived of by a party skilled in the art.

Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

(A) Based on the descriptions in comparative example 3, in the inventions relating to claims 12 and 13, to achieve the effect of the invention of the present application, the alkaline solution type needs to be specified as ammonium hydroxide.
